Author Edouard Cour revisits one of the greatest Greek myths by painting the often-heroic Herakles as, well... somewhat of a jerk. Crude and stubborn, we meet a half-man, half-demigod with a complex psychology entangled in guilt over the ghosts who have haunted him since childhood. Brimming with pathos and dark humor, this portrait of Herakles is a graphic whirlwind leaving little respite and often revealing beautiful surprises. This third and final volume wraps up the epic trilogy and sees the titular hero at last accept his due rewards for a lifetime of deeds both good and ill.

MAGNETIC PRESS is a subsidiary of Polarity LTD that publishes graphic novels, art books, and periodicals curated with a focus on internationally recognized content and talent, presented with premium quality design and production value. The Magnetic brand was founded by Mike Kennedy in 2013 as the independent publishing company Magnetic Press, Inc, featuring creators both new and established from around the world, sharing their stories with an English-language audience often for the first time. Magnetic books are recognized by their elevated production values and unique design elements, such as curved corners and creative use of available printing techniques. Their award-winning library includes such celebrated titles as the Love series of wordless wildlife graphic novels, as well as Eisner-nominated books A Sea of Love, Watersnakes, Herakles, Doomboy, A Glance Backward, Little Tails, The Ghost of Gaudi, and Dave Dorman's Wasted Lands Omnibus. Magnetic has earned a total of 17 Eisner Award nominations in their first four-of-four years of eligibility. Magnetic also won the Gold Medal of Excellence in the graphic novel category of the 2015 Independent Publisher Awards for Love: The Fox.
